Carbon Graphite Impregnation Process

Process Control for Improved Material Performance

01 PROCESS FLOW

01
Raw Material
Inspection of graphite blanks and material preparation.

02
Pre-treatment
Drying and cleaning (if required).

03
Vacuum Extraction
Remove air and moisture from the pores.

04
Impregnation
Introduce suitable impregnant into the pores.

05
Post-treatment
Curing / heat treatment (as applicable).

06
Final Inspection
Check dimensions, density, hardness and other required properties.

02 PROCESS CONTROL

Vacuum & Pressure
Control vacuum level, pressure and holding time to ensure proper impregnation.

Temperature & Curing
Set appropriate temperature and post-treatment according to the impregnant and material system.

Impregnant Selection
Use suitable resin or antimony impregnant based on application requirements.

Process Stability
Maintain stable process conditions to ensure consistent quality and performance.

03 QUALITY INSPECTION

Dimensional Inspection
Check critical dimensions and machining quality.

Density Testing
Verify material density (when required).

Hardness Testing
Ensure hardness meets customer requirements (when required).

Visual Inspection
Check surface quality, appearance and defects.

PROCESS OBJECTIVE

Impregnation fills accessible pores in carbon graphite to modify permeability and selected material properties.
Results depend on the graphite grade, impregnant and process conditions.
